

This Week's Business

May 11, 2025

Our last issue of the semester!

Prepare for Your Finals!

01 GET ORGANIZED
Create a study plan with your assignments and the estimated time each one will take.

02 TAKE BREAKS
Breaks throughout your studying will keep you motivated and energized.

03 FIND A QUIET PLACE
Turn off your phone, put it out of reach & find a quiet place

04 ASK FOR HELP
If you're having trouble understanding a concept, don't be afraid to ask your professor.

SOBIC Art Contest

This semester, the School of Business Inclusion Council held an art contest. The contest was open to all TCNJ students. The requirements for submissions were:

- The artwork should embody themes of inclusivity, diversity, and belonging within the context of the business school.
- It should promote an environment where all students feel welcome, regardless of background, identity, or experience.
- The artwork should be linked to business concepts (e.g., entrepreneurship, leadership, innovation, global business, teamwork, ethical practices, etc.) and/or business organizations at TCNJ while aligning with the inclusivity theme.
- The piece should resemble a business practice or initiative with the theme of DEI closely aligned with it.

Congratulations to freshman, Fine Arts major, Sky Pinkett, whose piece, entitled “The Business of Being Complete” was chosen as the winner! Everyone will be able to see Sky’s work in the Business Building lounge when you return in the fall.
